Water Rate Hearing Is Set Here For July 29

CITIZENS ASKED TO SUBMIT OPINION ON RATE HIKE PETITION

Formal Notice From the Commission Is Received Here

CITIES PREPARE TO FIGHT CASE

Sessions To Be Held In Decatur City Hall At 9:30 a.m.

The Alabama Public Service commission has set July 29 as the date for hearing the petition of the Alabama Water company for permission to place into effect a general increase in the water rates in Albany and Decatur.

Formal notice of the intention of the commission to hear the petition on July 29, at a session to be convened in the Decatur city hall, has been received by G. O. Chenault, city attorney of Albany and W. W. Callahan, city attorney of Decatur.

The hearing will be opened at 9:30 a. m. according to the notice from the commission.

The municipalities today began the task of preparing to oppose the petition for increased rates. Formal invitation was extended by the City of Albany to citizens who had any complaint against the water company, to file such complaint, in writing, with the city clerk at once. Citizens having any reason to oppose the increase in rates also, were requested to file their reasons with the city clerk.

It is understood here that the water company plans, if the petition is denied by the state commission, to take the case on to the supreme court and it is possible that the municipalities may be required to conduct an extensive legal campaign in opposition to the proposed rate advance.

FEDERAL OFFICER IS DEAD AFTER BATTLE

State Forces Do Not Recognize Friends In The Dark

(Associated Press)

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., June 20—William P. Porter, federal prohibition officer, was shot and killed, W. E. Workman, state officer, was shot twice and seriously wounded and George Ball, chief of state officers, was wounded in a battle between state and federal prohibition officers on Camp Creek in Wayne county early today.

The battle started when federal and state officers both approaching a still location from opposite sides mistook each other for moonshiners.

Homer Joy, another federal officer said he was sleeping on a hill overlooking the scene of the expected still when he heard the shooting start. He said he flashed his light and recognized Ball and shouted to stop the shooting but could not be heard above the din.

Porter had thrown F. J. Poe to the ground and Joy said, and was grappling him. Porter was believed to have recognized Poe and started to let him thinking that Poe had also recognized him. Poe fired and Porter was killed. Joy covered Poe with his gun and ordered him to disarm before Poe realized his mistake.

A party of young women returning from a hay ride on the Wayne road were stopped and the wounded men taken to Huntington. Porter was dead and Workman was shot through the head and shoulders. He is in a serious condition.

DARROW ARRIVES DAYTON MONDAY

Famous Trial Is Set For July 10 In Small Tenn. Town

(Associated Press)

DAYTON, Tenn., June 20.—As prosecution attorneys returned to Dayton today local interest centered in the arrival next week of the legal experts who will defend John T. Scopes when he comes before the court of July 20 charged with violation of the Tennessee laws against the teaching of evolution in schools.

Clarence Darrow, Chicago attorney, who will serve as one of the champions for the defense will come here Monday with chief defense counsel John R. Neill. Arriving here early in the day Darrow will be the guest of the Dayton Progressive club. Scopes will also attend this meeting.

At the same time preparations were being pushed forward for the reception of visitors to attend the trial, a newspaper club, patterned after the club that was formed at the Democratic National convention, was being prepared by the Chattanooga News. Quarters have been rented and are being fitted for the reception of visitors.

Four Men Dead From Gas Fumes

(Associated Press)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 20.—Officials of the Woodward Coal and Iron company today had an investigation underway into the death of four white men who were overcome by gas fumes while making repairs on a furnace.

The dead are: B. Edwards, Bessemer; F. T. Brighton and C. Coffer and Claude Terry, Woodward. When the men failed to report off duty at the regular hour a relief party went to the top of the furnace where all four were found dead.

A. A. Long, general manager of the company, stated that the men were probably trapped by the clouds of gas from the furnace which they were repairing.

Many Bottles Fall Into The Hands Of Officers

CAPITAL POST OFFICER TALKS

Montgomery's Unit Denies Knowledge Of The Liquid

(Associated Press)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 20.—Chief State Law Enforcement Officer Walter F. McAduy last night reported the seizure of 500 bottles of home brew from the annual barbecue of the Montgomery Post of the American Legion, which was held this afternoon about three miles from the city.

State Law Enforcement Officers Potter Smith, Kimbrough and Trainor made the seizure and reported that no arrests were made as no one claimed the brew.

Chief McAduy stated he had received several complaints as to the sale of brew at the barbecue and that action was taken following these complaints. Officers say the brew was located some distance from the barbecue and that no one was around the cache at the time of the seizure, except negroes.

Bert F. Fitzpatrick, post commander of the Legion, made the following statement: "The Legion regrets that its annual affair was marred by the efforts of the state law enforcement officers. The alleged home brew beer, which they said they destroyed, was not on the premises occupied by the Legion. We had no knowledge of it. We feel that it is particularly unfortunate that the officers should have chosen the day of the barbecue to make a spectacular raid."

"We know that there have been many events in and around Montgomery where beer has been plentiful and no raid was made nor attempted. The gesture was unfortunate from all standpoints. As far as we know the bottles which the raiders destroyed did not contain beer. No analysis, we understand, was made of the fluids in the bottle."

Albany To Have Extra Policeman

Albany is to have an addition to its police force.

The council Friday evening adopted an ordinance providing for a "day and night" officer for special duty. He will be on duty between the hours of twelve noon and twelve midnight. The officer has not yet been appointed.

Y. M. C. A. Quartet To Go to Mt. Moriah

The Y. M. C. A. quartet will appear twice Sunday at Mount Moriah, Tenn., and at Pulaski, C. L. Shook, member of the popular quartet announced today. Churches in which they will sing were not announced.

The quartet, composed of Messrs: Gilliam, McCullough, Shook and Gardner, is forging to the front in Twin City musical circles.

CANTON, June 20.—Banditry made its appearance in Canton today, when the cashier of the Japanese hospital who had just withdrawn $5,000 for hospital expenses from a foreign settlement bank, was shot, just outside a French bridge.

DRIVE TO START ON MONDAY FOR FREE HITCHING YARDS

Merchant Committees To Canvass City For Necessary Funds

DECATUR ALREADY HAS FREE YARDS

Cities Awakening To Importance Of The Farm Trade

Merchant committees will start out Monday morning with the intention of raising sufficient funds to provide for a free hitch yard as an accommodation to the hundreds of farmers who visit the cities each week. It is the plan of the merchants to obtain a section of the Malone Amusement park for hitching teams.

Citizens of these cities are realizing every day the vast importance of encouraging farm trade and traders. A free hitch yard has been maintained for some years at the D. S. Echols Gin site at the corner of Wilson avenue and Bank street, Decatur, but there has been no adequate space provided in Albany for farmer's accommodations. A free hitching yard of course does not provide for the feeding of teams, farmers are expected to take care of that feature themselves.

Although no definite move will be made toward the carrying out of the plan until Monday, Albany merchants were today preparing to open a drive for funds to serve as rental for the property. Interested merchants were of the opinion that there would be no difficulty in obtaining the necessary amount.

Both Decatur and Albany have been busy providing roadways to neighboring communities and towns and are now more active than ever before in the encouragement of agricultural trading.

Northern Alabama's greatest asset lies in the agricultural resource is the opinion of prominent merchants of the cities and it is the intention to provide every possible convenience for the farmer who comes here to buy and sell.

EVOLUTION TRIAL JUDGE ONCE REPRESENTED MOUNTAIN LAD

(Associated Press)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 20.—An interesting sidelight on the far-famed "Evolution" trial which is to begin on July 10 at Dayton, Tenn., gleaned forth at the state capitol building here today when it was revealed that Judge J. T. Raulston, circuit judge of Rhea, Tennessee, who is to preside over the trial made two trips to this city some years ago in behalf of a young mountain lad, who was confined in the state penitentiary on charges of murder.

State employees at the capitol say that Judge Raulston made his first trip to Montgomery during the term of Governor Kilby to plead for the parole of Tyrus Lawson, a sixteen year old boy who had been sentenced to a twelve year term for second degree murder. Lawson was convicted in Jackson county, but he and the other principles in the killing were from Tennessee.

Judge Raulston met with no success in his efforts to get the boy released while Kilby was chief executive, but returning after Brandon was elected he was more fortunate and finally won freedom for the lad.

It seems that the murder was committed near the state line and that Lawson's parents were neighbors of Judge Raulston. The judge was impressed with the facts in the case and the two trips to the state house followed.

Many of the capitol employees remember Judge Raulston very clearly and they describe him as the "old-

ALBANY COUNCIL TO DECIDE MONDAY EVE ON THE BRIDGE PACT

Question of Opening the Thoroughfare Set For Special Meeting

VETO OF MAYOR IS RECEIVED

New Resolution Is Sent To Committee For Report Monday

The question of opening of Alabama street, site of the new bridge over the Tennessee river at Albany-Decatur remained unsettled today, following the meeting Friday night of the Albany council, when a resolution, providing for the opening of the street, was referred to the street committee.

A report from the committee is expected to be received and acted upon by the council at a special meeting, to be held Monday evening.

Previously the council had adopted a resolution to open the street to Church street, which resolution was not satisfactory to the state highway commission, according to notification from that body. The resolution was vetoed by Mayor F. L. Carswell and the veto was read to the council last night.

The new resolution was interpreted as opening and improving Alabama street to Fourth avenue, this resolution being referred to the street committee.

The council Friday evening made final ordinances providing for construction of a sewer line in Central Albany and cement sidewalks on Prospect drive, Seventh avenue and the Somerville road.

The resignation of William Eyns, city fireman, effective July 1, was received by the council.

REVEREND NOBLE R. EDWARDS

An evangelistic campaign that it is believed will equal any similar campaign held in the cities will open Sunday when Reverend Noble R. Edwards, pastor of the First Christian church will give the first of a series of sermons at the tent on Fourth Avenue and Gordon Drive. The Christian church is using the same location as that of the Church of Christ in their meeting just closed Friday.

With the exception of Sunday, services will be held in the evening only during the two weeks the campaign is conducted. G. E. McCullough, well known local singer, will have charge of the musical programs.

LABORATORY CHIEF DEFENSE WITNESS

Tenney Subjected To Cross Examination By Prosecutor

(Associated Press)

CHICAGO, June 20.—Dissatisfied by the trend of the cross examination of their chief witness, William S. Stewart, chief of counsel for William D. Shepherd forced an afternoon session of court today.

He did not want to let the jury have until Monday morning to study over the replies Dr. Frederick Tenney, head of the Chicago health department laboratory, had made to questions asked by Prosecutor Robert E. Crowe.

Upon direct examination, Dr. Tenney said emphatically that Charles C. Fauman, chief witness against Shepherd, could not have obtained typhoid germs in the manner he stated and the probability was the germs handed as Fauman said they were handled, would have been dead before Shepherd could have used them in the alleged murder of his son, Billy McClinck.

Under a driving attack by Prosecutor Crowe, Dr. Tenney admitted that only a rule that germs should not be given out would stand between the act and its violation by an irresponsible employee, and that at least one man in his department formerly attended Fauman's school and that his department had propagated one set of germs for 30 years and could continue to do so for 30 years more.

Crowe accused the witness of hedging his responses to interrogations and asked him if he had any interest in the trial. That maneuver by the state's attorney, coming just five minutes before time for the usual adjournment over Saturday afternoon and Sunday, threw a scare into the defense.

Dr. Tenney admitted that the newspapers published the confession of Fauman that he had obtained from the city health department three test tubes of typhoid germs, that an investigation of two possible leaks had been made by the head of the city health department.

The doctor also admitted that he understood that Fauman's school had been licensed by the health department to conduct a hospital, a fact which would have influenced him in handing out germs from the laboratory.

SENATOR WILL USE EVERY EFFORT FOR PROJECT, HE SAYS

Winter Session to Bring Decision by Congress Solon's Belief

STILL IS QUIET ON CANDIDACY

No Announcement To Be Made Before Next Month

There is every reason to believe that the winter session of congress will bring about a solution of the Muscle Shoals problem, according to Senator Oscar W. Underwood, who is the guest of Postmaster and Mrs. W. E. Crawford, of Decatur. Senator Underwood has spent several days in North Alabama, greeting old friends. He returned here today from the Tri-Cities.

The only possibility Senator Underwood sees for congress deciding on less than full development of Muscle Shoals is that there may be some opposition to completion, at this time, of dam number three.

He expressed belief that the Muscle Shoals commission, which was appointed by President Coolidge, will submit a working plan to the President in ample time for the executive to submit his recommendations to congress in his address to that body.

The fact that the administration is committed to a program of economy, may make it more difficult for the Shoals advocates to convince a majority that the construction of dam number three is necessary for the full utilization of the Shoals project, he said, but he felt that dam number three is necessary and he will work to have funds appropriated for its construction.

Senator Underwood parried direct questions regarding his candidacy for the United States senate, but indicated that if he decides to make the race, his announcement will not be forthcoming before next month.

Senator Underwood was accorded a cordial reception by his North Alabama friends.

HUIE DENIES THAT HE HAS RESIGNED

Albany Postmaster Is Enjoying Vacation Only, He States

L. E. Huie, postmaster of Albany, today vigorously denied the rumor which had gained widespread circulation on the streets, that he would resign his office.

Mr. Huie explained that at present he was enjoying the first vacation he has had since he entered office.

"I'll be back on the job on July 1," he declared. "I am now enjoying the first vacation I have had since I entered the office. There is absolutely nothing of truth in the rumor that I will resign."

Mr. Huie became postmaster of Albany, following the republican victory in 1920, being an appointee of the Harding administration, later being re-appointed by President Coolidge.

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I.—Ellen and Joe Latimer, orphaned, without means, make their home with their Aunt Elsie, at Port Washington, small New York town. Ellen is studying art, her expenses being paid by Mrs. Sewall Rose, girlhood friend of her mother. Mrs. Rose invites Ellen to a Thanksgiving house party, and the girl is delighted.

CHAPTER II.—On the way from the station to Mrs. Rose's Ellen rides with a remarkably attractive young woman and a much older man. She takes them for father and daughter, but they are introduced as Mr. and Mrs. Josselyn. Ellen does not "fit in" with the younger members of the party, and is miserable

CHAPTER III.—Leaving for her home next morning, Ellen meets Gibbs Josselyn, son of her fellow guest. He has disapproved of his father's wedding and is not on speaking terms with the couple. Declining to stay at Mrs. Rose's Gibbs drives Ellen to the station. They miss the train and Gibbs undertakes to drive the girl to Port Washington. On the way their auto is wrecked. Ellen is hurt, but it is not thought to be serious, and she and Gibbs part. He has been attracted by the girl, and she by him.

CHAPTER IV.—Ellen's injury proves to be severe, and for months she is an invalid. Recovered, she is taking part in the town's Memorial day festivities when Gibbs Josselyn, on a yachting trip with a friend, George Lathrop, meets her again. The feeling of mutual attraction has strengthened since they parted. They leave Port Washington man and wife.

CHAPTER V.—Nearly seven years later Gibbs and Ellen Josselyn, with their son Tommy, come back from France to New York. They are welcomed by Josselyn, Senior, and his beautiful wife, Lillian, the old ill feeling forgotten.

Banker-Slayer Is Declared Insane

(Associated Press)

CHICAGO, June 20.—John S. Gridley, Libertyville banker, who shot his wife at their home in St. Petersburg, Fla., has been declared insane at Waukegan, Ill., by the Lake County court, it was disclosed here. The insanity finding probably will prevent the trial of Gridley in Florida on the shooting charge.

"Gibbs," said Ellen then, from a bursting heart, "Did you take Lillian to see the studio?"

bursting heart. "Did you take Lillian to see the studio?"

She knew him so well; she could see the irresolution in his eyes. Denial?—no, he would not lie unnecessarily to her.

"Yes, I did," he said reluctantly. If she knew him well, he knew her, too. He had been watching Ellen uneasily all evening, he was ready for this. "Yes," he went on innocently. "Do you mind? She came for me at the club, at four, and we had to go right up into that neighborhood—I'm sorry if you mind?"

"If you thought I wouldn't mind, why didn't you say so straight out?" Ellen demanded. She thought she had him, but Gibbs, hanging his tie on the rack, merely looked thoughtful.

"If I tell you, will you please not mention it?" he surprised her by asking. "It's this; I hate her to go anywhere with any other man, even with me. He's perfectly decent about it in public, and he gives her the deuce in private! He was to be with us today you know or she never would have come for me at all—she's awfully sweet about it, and as usual, she humors him."

"She's clever!" Ellen said briefly. "Gibbs did not like this enigmatic answer, he gave no indication of displeasure beyond a faint scowl. He was presently sound asleep, with no further reference to the matter."

But Ellen, twisting with wretched thoughts, lay awake for hours. At first she mused only upon the bitterness of the simple fact: Gibbs had selected a studio without any appeal to the judgment of his wife. Ah, how different that was from the choosing of the last studio, the blessed little apartment on "Madame la Montaigne"; she had been on his arm then, exclaiming over rents, dumping on the dark stairs they climbed and climbed and climbed after the con- derges! How they had exulted over the boxes from home, over the placing of every chair and rug, and how they had—sifted forth, hungry and fired, to be fed and soothed and amused by the city of romance and beauty!

These thoughts were sad enough, and tears began to creep down Ellen's cheeks, and her head to ache with her efforts at self-control. But presently a fresh thought came, and the tears dried, and Ellen's heart began to beat hard again with agony and fear.

Lillian had gone into town the night before, Tuesday night, to dine and spend the night with friends, and Gibbs and his father were to take the car in, on Wednesday morning, and meet her for lunch. Ellen had been originally included in this plan, but had excused herself because Tommy's nurse was not well, and his mother was enjoying a monopoly of his care for a few days. And on Wednesday morning Josselyn, Senior, had asked Gibbs to go to the city without him, he had really preferred the idle country day with Ellen and Tommy. He had telephoned Lillian at her friend's hotel that Gibbs had the car, if she wanted it she was to telephone Gibbs at the club. Now Ellen writhed with the sudden conviction that they had met in the morning, and lunched together. She dared not ask him: it was to ask him to confess to a lie. More than that, it was to kill her confidence in him with one blow. But Ellen never knew a moment's ease after that. She looked at Lillian's beautiful, sphinxlike face the next day, vainly trying to read it. Her heart began to beat suffocatingly when her father-in-law chanced to ask his wife, at luncheon, how she had spent the previous day. Was it mere accident that took Lillian's splendid eyes to Gibbs before she answered? She had shopped with Mildred, and had sent her off at one o'clock, and had had a sort of luncheon-ten all by herself.

"You should have come straight home; that was a tiring visit," the old man said. Lillian smiled at him affectionately for her only answer. Ellen felt that she never appreciated the safety and the power of silence.

"You had no trouble getting hold of the car?" Josselyn, Senior, pursued suddenly.

"No." Again she glanced at Gibbs, again was silent. Gibbs was the next speaker, with a cheerful and general inquiry:

"Who's doing what this afternoon?"

The studio was formally opened in September, with a tea. The artist's pretty, blue-eyed little wife was present on this occasion, suitably, nay, charmingly, dressed, chatting with neglected guests, keeping a watchful eye upon tea-cups, playing her part well. His father was also there, a handsome and dignified figure, erect, white-haired, obviously full of pride in his son. And the little, dark-haired boy was there, for a few minutes, keeping close to the musicians, amusing the ladies with his pretty French.

But it was his beautiful young step-mother who shared with Gibbs Josselyn the interest of his guests, who was with him the romantic and fascinating center of attraction. Lillian was at her loveliest, radiant and smiling, the mysterious and astonishing perfection of her face enhanced by the Juliet-like little cap of pearls that held her glorious hair in place, and by the rich colors of her gown. She wore a marvelous garment of old brocade, in which fruity colors were mingled with gold and silver threads, and from her shoulders a filmy black overgarment floated loose, caught with a bracelet of pearls at either wrist, and weighted loosely at its hem by dull embroideries in pearls. Lillian said that she had had this robe for years without an opportunity to wear it; this was her opportunity, and she made the most of it. Anything more lovely than the picture she made in it, even heartsick Ellen had to admit she could not imagine.

Wherever Lillian moved, the crowd swayed with her, and in it was always the silver head, and the tall, trimly built figure of the hero of the hour. Her rich, amused voice, with its undercurrents of mystery, of suggestion, was the foundation of the conversation. And when she turned to Gibbs, as she was constantly turning, and asked him a simple question and received his answering monosyllable, it would have been an obtuse observer indeed who did not instantly perceive the thrilling current of awakening passion that ran between the two. His lightest word to her was fraught with it, his most fleeting glance betrayed it. At the end of the long three hours, when the guests had lingered out, one by one, and she stood by the fireplace, tired, drooping, superb, barely raising her eyes as she spoke to him, they might have been alone in the world. What did he say as he bent toward her, what did his smiling eyes say?

Ellen did not know, or care. The words were nothing, the look was nothing, it was the trembling intensity with which they charged them that ate into her soul like acid upon a plate. None of them was sane now, Ellen perhaps the least of the three. She was burning with an agony of jealousy and doubt and anger far more painful than any actual fire would have been. She was conscious of Gibbs and Lillian every instant of the day.

They were not often alone together, after all. A moment in the long drawing room, before dinner, a few sentences murmured in her ear as Gibbs crossed the tennis court at Lillian's side, perhaps a stolen tea-hour once a week in the city; this was the most. Even for this there must be endless contriving and tireless intrigue. Ellen could not tell what was suspicion, what fact, what was mere innocent chance, and what was deliberate arrangement.

Sometimes, watching, watching, watching, forlorn and lonely, she longed to tear aside the veil of kindness and happiness in which her life was wrapped, and fling herself sobbing upon her husband.

"Gibbs, Gibbs, my darling! How much of it is true—how much of it is my wretched imagination? Have you let yourself come to care for her—have you forgotten me? I am your life—I am your past and present—I alone! Let us leave all this behind us and go somewhere where we may be poor again, and you shall paint, and I will mend and cook, and all the old joy will come back to us again!"

She dared not say it. What woman ever did dare? She had lost so much, she dared not risk more. Ellen never had had much self-confidence, she lost it all now. She became afraid. Lillian could take Gibbs' love away from her, perhaps Lillian could make him leave her and Tommy completely. Perhaps Lillian wanted more than his passing admiration. Well, and if so, what could a fearful disheartened, crushed little Ellen do?

12 Years Ago From The Daily of
TODAY June 20, 1913
Postmaster Moseley, of Decatur, has received authorization from Washington to place the Decatur postoffice in first class condition.
The City of New Decatur has sold to Well-Roth company a $150,000 bond issue at 97. Contract has been awarded to the Southern Asphalt Construction company for improvement of Moulton and Grant streets at a cost of $165,000.
At the election of officers held last Saturday at Masonic Hall of Mt. Zion Lodge, No. 542, a father and six sons were elected to fill the offices as follows: J. H. Kitchens, W. M.; S. L. Kitchens, S. W.; J. H. Kitchens, Jr. J. W.; H. C. Kitchens, treasurer; J. B. Kitchens, secretary; W. A. Kitchens, S. D.; S. H. Kitchens, J. D.

NEW YORKERS MOVE TO TAX PISTOLS
OUT OF EXISTENCE
Every state in the union has sought to control the carrying of pistols and other firearms, with the result that "anti-toting" measures are on the statute books of all states, but the practice goes merrily on.
Americans continue to slaughter day in and day out. Last year the number of homicides was reported greater than in any previous twelve months. Jacksonville reported a murder record of 58.8 per 100,000 population, St. Louis 21.7, Chicago 17.5, New York 6.4, Memphis, the year before, had taken "honors" away from Jacksonville by reporting 65 violent deaths.
All of these deaths were not caused by the use of pistols or other firearms, but a very large percentage of them were. Many experts now take the position that pistols, after all, are not defensive weapons. Their position is sustained by their deliberate judgment that more instances occur, when possessors of pistols are aggressors, than instances when the possessors of pistols are defenders.
In London in 1922 there were only 35 murders, none of which were accomplished with pistols.
The Gadsden Times-News remarks: "Many comparatively small towns in the United States exceed that number. Figures are not available giving the number of cases in which possession and use of firearms enable honest citizens to avoid robbery, or to protect their property against burglars, but if the figures were compiled they probably would show that the small firearm is not much of a protection to the ordinary man."
Inasmuch as the laws against the carrying of pistols have not prevented the practice, law-makers and jurists are looking for some new means of eliminating this danger.
Dr. Royal S. Copeland, New York senator, and Odger L. Mills, congressman from the same state, have introduced bills, which would provide a federal tax of $100 on every pistol sold, exchanged or given away in the United States. The bills would prohibit the importation of pistols. On first thought, one might be disposed to say that the proposed tax measure is unfair, inasmuch as the tax could easily be paid by financially independent people who desired to own or carry a pistol, while the tax would operate as a bar to the man of limited means. The additional criticism might be made that the measure probably would put some firearm plants out of business.
While these two things are entirely true, we must not forget that the bill probably would exercise a restraining influence on the indiscriminate sale and distribution of weapons. When America decided it wanted prohibition, the people voted it, despite the fact that a few breweries and distilleries might be closed. Some of the wealthy people were able to store quantities of pre-prohibition liquors in their cellars, which action, in many states, not yet is illegal. Poorer people were unable, because of their poverty, to reap the doubtful benefits from this opportunity. We realize these instances, which might be called imperfections in the law, but we do not condemn the prohibition statutes because of them.
In considering the proposed prohibitory tax on pistols, we must remember, as we have done with prohibition, that the object of American legislation should always be to render the greatest good to the greatest number.
OUR RELATIONS WITH VALLEY
That there is a feeling among many of the people of the Tennessee Valley that Birmingham does not seek their co-operation and friendship is evident from press comment growing out of the recent suggestion by The Age-Herald that if such feeling did exist it was the duty of both communities to overcome it. The mutual interests of the two sections are too close not to be benefited by co-operative effort. No more important duty could face our Birmingham civic bodies than to seek ways to convince our neighbors to the north of the sincerity of our friendship.
The Albany-Decatur Daily was first to call direct attention to the situation, and to The Age-Herald's suggestion that the subject deserved the careful thought of the leaders of both sections the Daily now adds: "The Birmingham paper is absolutely correct and if, by its suggestion, it brings about such consideration, with the resultant discovery of means to bring the Valley and Birmingham closer together, The Age-Herald will have rendered a great public service to both its own community and this section." But the Daily continues that there is work to be done to reach this consummation. The Age-Herald had suggested that improved highways between Birmingham and North Alabama cities would do much to cement closer relations. The Daily endorses this, but adds: "Recently a freight bus line has been established between Albany-Decatur and Nashville. The line, the Daily is informed, operates on a regular schedule. If that straw doesn't indicate to the Birmingham business people the way the wind is blowing, they lack the perception we had given them credit for."
The Florence Times is frankly pessimistic about getting co-operation between Birmingham and the Valley. "Immersion in its own affairs," says The Times, "is probably the only excuse which may be offered legitimately for Birmingham, though, in view of the failure of the people of the northwest corner of the state to interest her citizens in any mutual undertakings, it would be very charitable to place such a construction upon the attitude of the Magic City." And in reply to the suggestion about better highway connections The Times says: "It has long been recognized in this immediate section that the communities need expect nothing in the way of co-operation from Birmingham toward establishing closer relationships. Efforts which were made by the local people in years past along these lines, when better road communications were sought and other movements looking toward mutual interests suggested, found that no response might be expected from Birmingham, and the people have learned to turn to Nashville, Memphis and Chattanooga as friendly cities eager to join in all mutual public movements. On many occasions representatives of these cities, and of their official organizations have visited the Tri-Cities when such things were being undertaken, but if such a thing ever occurred with Birmingham participating it is not recalled."
This sort of attitude on the part of such representative newspapers of the Valley no doubt reflects a similar attitude among a considerable number of residents of that section. It makes it all the more important to take steps to show them that they have a wrong conception of Birmingham's spirit of neighborliness and friendship toward the various communities which go to make up this great state.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

BEAUTIFUL VERSION OF LORD'S PRAYER
HAS AN UNUSUAL HISTORY
Some eleven or twelve years ago The Daily published a beautiful composition, based on the Lord's Prayer. At the time of publication, an explanatory note prefaced the composition, explaining that it had been captured during the civil war. The original was printed on a very heavy satin, on July 4, 1823. The copy was taken from the original and picked up by A. P. Green, of Auburn, Ind., in Corinth, Miss., the morning the Confederate army evacuated, May 30, 1862.
The Daily files do not disclose the source from which the composition found its way into this newspaper office half a century afterward. Following its publication, Captain J. M. Robinson, well known local resident, liked the composition so well, members of his family filed it away in a Bible at their home.
The other day Captain Robinson read the prayer again. Its beauty of expression and deep spiritual feeling has not changed with the passing years. Captain Robinson was so much impressed with the composition, that he decided then and there to return the copy to The Daily office, which he did. Believing that the prayer will be of as much interest to the later readers of The Daily as it was to those earlier subscribers, the composition is re-published below:
Thou to the Mercy Seat our souls doth gather,
To do our duty unto Thee..... Our Father.
To whom all praise, all honor should be given,
For thou art the Great God..... Who art in Heaven,
Thou, by Thy wisdom, rulest the world's wide fame
Forever, therefore..... Hallowed be Thy name.
Let never more delays divide us from
Thy glorious grace, but..... Thy kingdom come,
But let Thy commands be opposed by none,
But Thy good pleasure and..... Thy will be done,
And let our promptness to obey be even
The very same..... On earth, as 'tis in Heaven,
Then, for our souls, O Lord, we also pray
Thou wouldst be pleased to..... Give us this day
The food of life, wherewith our souls are fed,
Sufficient raiment and..... Our daily bread,
With every needful thing doth Thou relieve us,
And of Thy mercy, pity..... And forgive us
All our misdeeds, for Him, whom Thou dost please
To make an offering for..... Our Trespases
And, for as much, O Lord, as we believe
That Thou wilt pardon us..... As we forgive those
Let that love teach, where-with Thou acquaint us,
To pardon all..... Tresspass against.
And, tho, sometimes, Thou findest we have forgot
This love for Thee, yet help..... And lead us not
Though soul and body want, to desperation,
Nor let earth's drain drive us Into temptation,
Let not the soul of any true believer
Fall in the time of trial..... But deliver
Yea, save them from the malice of the devil, and, Both in life and death, keep..... Us from evil.
Thus pray we, Lord, for that of Thee, from whom
This day we had..... For thine is the kingdom,
This world is of Thy work, its wondrous story
To Thee belongs..... The power and the glory,
And all Thy wondrous works have ended never,
But will remain forever and Forever,
Thus, we poor creatures would confess again,
And thus would say eternally Amen.

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY
Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jones invited some of their most intimate friends to have dinner with them on Friday evening, June 19th, at the Hotel Echols to help them celebrate their silver wedding anniversary. In the dining room a profusion of gift flowers were artistically arranged. The bride and groom's table reserved for Mr. and Mrs. Jones and two of their wedding attendants, Mrs. A. J. Harris and W. R. Spight was especially pretty in pink and yellow calenda, sweet peas and snap dragons. They were also used on the other table. The same colors were carried out in the elaborate menu which was served. The place cards were brides and grooms.

This was a very informal affair and a number of impromptu talks were made. Another interesting feature of the entertainment was the showing of pictures of the guests taken at and about the time of the wedding, twenty five years ago.

Congratulations were showered on the host and hostess and toasts were drunk to their future happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Jones gave souvenirs, silver Confederate Memorial coins, to each guest.

Cards were placed for the following: Mrs. W. H. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Jones, Sr. Mr. and Mrs. John W. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Jones Jr., Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Polhill, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hendrix, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Pointer, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Lynn, Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Davidson, Judge and Mrs. W. T. Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Callahan and Mrs. H. D. Greer, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Harris, W. R. Spight, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Preuit, Mrs. A. P. Sommerson of New York, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Crawford, Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Ramage, Dr. and Mrs. Claude Orear, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Skeggs, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McMath, W. W. Fussell, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Shackelford, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Irwin and T. L. Baker.

PARTY FOR MISS FLEMING
Another lovely party that was given on Friday afternoon was the bridge party at the Fleming home when Mrs. J. B. Fleming entertained in honor of her daughter, Louise, who recently returned from college which she attended in Dallas, Texas. The home was unusually attractive with bright summer blossoms adding bright touches.

Miss Agnes Giles, who made highest score was presented the prize and a lovely memento of the afternoon was received by the guest of honor. A plate salad course was served late in the afternoon at the conclusion of a number of interesting games. The guest list included: Miss Agnes Cassells, Miss Agnes Giles, Miss Eleanor Harrison, Miss Eleanor Ramage, Miss Margaret Broadus, Miss Lura Mae Graham, Miss Elizabeth Ann Morrow, Miss Louise Flemming and Miss Vivian Flemming.

BRIDGE PARTY AT MOUNTAIN
Mrs. C. B. Elliott gave a lovely spend the day bridge party at her summer home on Trinity Mountain on Friday in compliment to her sister, Mrs. Paul Crawford of West Palm Beach, Fla., who is her guest and Mrs. E. P. Sommerson of New York who is visiting friends and relatives here.

The high score prize was awarded to Mrs. R. G. Cortner and the hostess presented the guests of honor with two pair of white silk hose. Bridge was played all day except at the noon hour when a delicious luncheon was enjoyed.

Mrs. Elliott's guests were Mrs. J. L. Echols, Mrs. D. S. Echols, Mrs. E. P. Sommerson, Mrs. Paul Crawford, Mrs. E. S. Morrow and Mrs. R. G. Cortner

MRS. MAY'S PARTY
Mrs. H. H. May was a bridge hostess at the Valley Country Club on Friday afternoon entertaining in honor of Mrs. Reynolds May of Dothan, Ala., who is her house guest. The interior of the club was a bower of mid-summer flowers that were used in every available space. The hostess received her guests in a cream lace creation and the honoree was becomingly gowned in flowered georgette.

Misses Babye Bess Bailey and Mary Barry, their girlish loveliness enhanced by dainty afternoon frocks, served punch all during the afternoon and at the end of the afternoon's game refreshing ices were passed with cake and nuts.

Those enjoying this party were Mrs. J. Y. Hamil, Mrs. J. R. Daniel, Mrs. H. E. Dryden, Jr., Mrs. C. C. Cox, Mrs. S. Steinhart of Greenville, Ala. Mrs. Sarah Jeffries, Mrs. John McGhee, Mrs. John W. Jones, Mrs. Frank Lide, Mrs. R. T. Sheppard, Mrs. W. S. Russell, Mrs. A. E. Humphrey, Mrs. John Bragg, Mrs. Earle Calvin, Mrs. Elmer Loyd, Mrs. E. W. Godbee, Mrs. W. M. Voorhes, Mrs. Ernest Morrow, Mrs. Will Wyker, Mrs. Russell Green, Mrs. Rufus Pearson, Mrs. H. D. Greer, Mrs. H. A. Skeggs, Mrs. H. D. Burnum, Miss Mary Barry, Miss Ruth Banks, Mrs. S. W. Irwin, Mrs. F. S. Hunt, Miss Christine Almon, Mrs. T. H. Alexander, of Nashville, Mrs. Joe Woods, Mrs. Garner Pride, Mrs. T. M. Jones Jr., Mrs. Cooper Adams of Texas and Miss Babye Bess Bailey.

Mrs. Rufus Pearson received a dainty boudoir pillow as a prize for top score and Mrs. Earle Calvin a wall pocket vase as consolation. Mrs. Reynolds May was presented a silver vanity set.

G. A. MEETS
The Girls Auxiliary of the First Baptist church met on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Miss Nell Safley presiding.

At this time officers for the next quarter were elected as follows: president, Miss Elsie Johnson, vice president, Ollis Owen; secretary and treasurer, Miss Cora Fields, choirist, Miss Corinne Stevens; pianist, Miss Nell Safley; reporter, Miss Edith Hollingsworth.

W. A. F. CLUB MEETS
The W. A. F. club met on Friday afternoon with Miss Katherine Hunter at her home on Jackson street.

A short business session was held and later after interesting games had been enjoyed delectable refreshments were served when the hostess was assisted by Miss Annie Louise Maulsby and Miss Liza Lee Miller.

The next meeting will be held with Miss Maulsby.

PARTY FOR OUT OF TOWN GUESTS
Mrs. D. S. Echols is entertaining this afternoon honoring two out of town visitors, Mrs. Paul Crawford, of West Palm Beach, Fla., and Mrs. E. P. Sommerson of New York city.

Paul McKnight is ill at his home on Sixth avenue South.

Julian McNeese sustained a broken arm on Friday while playing at his home.

Tuberculin Tests Come During Week

Tuberculin tests will be made all next week by an official of the Morgan county health department, according to information given out today. Tests will be made of all dairies in this locality. Persons or individuals who desire to have animals examined are requested to group with other owners of only a very limited number of stock, it being suggested that much time and labor can be saved in this manner. There will not be any cost for the tests.

Applications For Camp Are Ready

Additional blank applications for Scouts desiring to attend Camp Quick which opens June 28, have been received, according to a notice given today by Major Hal Long to members of Troop 17.

"I want to urge those members of the troop, who have not yet received their blank applications, to do so at once," Major Long stated, "inasmuch as Camp Quick opens on June 28 and it is necessary for Scouts desiring to attend to file their applications as soon as possible."

Crissman Two Up On S. E. Foster

(Associated Press)
BILTMORE FOREST CLUB, ASHEVILLE, N. C., June 20.—Glenn Crissman, Selma, Ala., college golfer was two up on S. E. Foster, Jacksonville, Fla., at the end of the first 18 holes of the 36 hole finals of the Southern Amateur championship being played here.

The Jacksonville player won the last two holes of the morning round, to recover one after Crissman was three up at the turn.

TROOPS DENIED

(Associated Press)
NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 20.—Governor Austin Peay today declined the request of Sheriff R. B. Harris, of Rhea County, and A. P. Haggard, chairman of Dayton's city commission for national guard troops at Dayton during the Scopes trial, the request presenting no emergency, the governor stated.

DAN GREGORY

Strains Straight From Jungle Enliven Lemonade Drinkers

New York City.—Straight from the jungle with no stops en route comes the music played by Dan Gregory's jazz band.

Mr. Gregory, who leads an orchestra at the Crystal Palace, one of the largest dancing places in the world, plays no mild imitation of the negro melodies that haunt the South. His is the real thing. It was brought to this country on phonograph records by Captain Frank Hurley, Australian aviator and explorer, direct from the island of Papua, where head hunters flourish. It is the chant and wail of the man hunt transcribed on wax.

Not Even Tamed
Mr. Gregory took the records and arranged the contents for his own orchestra. The result is that pleasure seekers eat lobster and drink lemonade while listening to the identical strains which spur the man-eating Papuans on to blood-thirsty exploits.

Proctor Denies Rumors Of Loss

John E. Proctor, head of the Morgan Furniture company, arises to deny that he was victimized recently by a check artist. Reports had been current that Mr. Proctor suffered the loss of a large sum through manipulation of a check, which a furniture purchaser offered in payment for a bill of goods. The story was that the check was turned down by the bank upon the stranger's protest, claiming the bank must have made a mistake. He was said to have had to take the check to the bank, cashing it on the endorsement of the furniture company.

Mr. Proctor said he was unable to explain how the rumor got started but desired that it be corrected. He said he knew of no circumstances, whatever, which might have caused the story to start.

ORDINANCE NO. 450

To provide for the construction of a certain storm sewer to relieve the overburden of the present storm sewer now in place, and drain storm water from certain parts of the City of Albany, Alabama.

SECTION NO. 1. Be it ordained by the City Council of Albany, Alabama, that a storm sewer shall be constructed as follows:

A 24 inch vitrified pipe line be laid beginning at a point, (12 feet south of the present catch basin, which is just east of the east property line of Second Avenue East, which was constructed under Ordinance No. 245) with an elevation 561.6 Government Datum, and running in a northwesterly direction with Lee Street South of the South Curb Line on a 0.26 per cent grade for a distance of 1,300 feet to a manhole at the foot of Lee and Canal streets, to an elevation 568.2, Government Datum.

SECTION NO. 2. That the said storm sewer shall be constructed with the necessary man-holes of brick or concrete with cast iron covers and shall be connected at intervals with the storm sewer now in place, by means of vitrified pipe of proper size as shown on the Engineer's plans. That where necessary the catch basin now in place be re-modeled so as to prevent the clogging by debris, etc. as shown by details and drawings in the City Engineer's office.

SECTION NO. 3. That the said storm sewer is to be constructed to assist draining the territory or area embraced within the boundary described as follows: Beginning at a point on the south margin of Lee street 230 feet West of the West margin of First Avenue East, where the North Corporation line of Albany, Alabama intersects the South margin of said Lee street; thence Southeast with the Corporation line along Lee street for 1590 feet to the point where the Corporation Line turns Northeast along the East Margin of Alabama street as shown by the Bank's survey of Decatur, Alabama; thence Northeast to the Corporation line for 1230 feet to the center of Walnut street; thence Eastwardly along Walnut and Laurel street for 245 feet to the East Boundary of the E. P. Johnston's survey; thence in a Southeasterly direction for 660 feet to a point on the South margin of the L. & N. Railroad Belt line right of way. 400 feet East of Sixth Avenue East; thence south 1300 feet to the center of Grant street; thence West along Grant street for 440 feet to the center of Sixth Avenue East; thence South along Sixth Avenue East for 380 feet to the center of Jackson street; thence West along Jackson street for 340 feet; thence South 190 feet to the center of the alley between Jackson and Sherman street; thence West along the said alley between Jackson and Sherman streets for 840 feet to a point where the said alley if extended would intersect Gordon Drive; thence Northwest along Gordon Drive for 440 feet to the center of Second Avenue East; thence North along Second Avenue East for 1060 feet to the center of Moulton street; thence West along Moulton street for 432 feet to the center of First Avenue East; thence North along

First Avenue East for 930 feet to the center of L. & N. Railroad Belt track; thence Northwest along the said L. & N. Belt Line Track for 460 feet. thence Northeast for 220 feet to the point of beginning comprising part of the Gateway Addition, part of the E. P. Johnston's addition, and part of Addition No. 3 of the Decatur Land Improvement and Furnace Company's survey.

SECTION NO. 4. That the cost of construction of the storm sewer authorized by this Ordinance shall be assessed and levied upon and against all the lots or parcels of land within the above described district drained by said storm sewer to the extent of the increase value of such property by reason of the special benefits derived from such improvement. Provided however that a charge be greater than the increase value of such property by reason of the special benefits derived from such improvements.

SECTION NO. 5. That the estimated cost of the said improvement a $5,379.00 and that the City Council of the City of Albany, Ala., will meet on the 17th day of July, 1925 in the City Hall of the City of Albany Ala., at 7:30 o'clock p. m. to hear any objections or remonstrances that may be made or filed to said improvements in the manner of making same or the character of material to be used.

SECTION NO. 6. That this ordinance shall be published by the City Clerk in a newspaper published in the City of Albany, Ala., once a week for two consecutive weeks: the first publication to be not less than two weeks prior to the date set herein in Section 5, and the clerk is further ordered to send a copy of this ordinance by registered mail postage prepaid, to the persons last assessing for city or town taxation the property herein proposed to be assessed to the last known address of said persons, and that said copy of said ordinance shall be so mailed not less than twenty days before the date set herein Section 5 at which the City Council of Albany, Ala. will meet to hear any objections, remonstrances that may be made or filed to said improvements; the manner of making the same or the character of the material to be used.

Adopted this 12th day of June 1925.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

State Project No. 63
Limestone-Morgan Counties

Sealed bids will be received by the State Highway Commission of Alabama at the office of the State Highway Department, Montgomery, Alabama, until 12:00 o'clock noon, July 8th, 1925, and at that time publicly opened for the construction of a bridge across the Tennessee river at Decatur and Albany.

Bids will be received in alternate design. Alternate No. 1 consisting of a series of re-inforced concrete arches with bascule channel span. Alternate No. 2 will consist of a series of steel girder spans with a bascule channel span.

The right is reserved to award the substructure and the superstructure in alternate No. 2 to different contractors, if the Commission should so desire.

The contractor shall base his bid on Alternate No. 2 on receiving both the superstructure and the substructure. He should state this clearly in a letter attached to his proposal.

The contract price for concrete shall include the cost of cement and if the proportions as adopted for the work vary from those specified necessitating a change in the quantity of cement the difference in the cost of the work based upon the actual cost of the cement delivered at the bridge site shall be adjusted for or against the contractor as the case may be.

The principal items of work are approximately as follows:

ALTERNATE NO. 1

Concrete Arch Design

8,600 Cu. Yds. Class A concrete.

1,400 Cu. Yds. Class B concrete

1,000 Cu. Yds. Class D concrete.

700,000 Pounds Steel re-inforcing.

32 Sets cast iron drains.

3,200 Lin. Ft. handrail

1,000 Cu. Yds. dry excavation.

1,500 Cu Yds wet excavation.

700 Cu Yds. rock excavation.

38 Sets expansion plates, the cost of which is to be absorbed into the unit prices bid for concrete.

ALTERNATE NO. 2

Steel Design. Substructure and Approaches

500 Cu Yds. Class A concrete in approaches.

35,000 pounds re-inforcing steel in approaches.

1,200 Cu Yds. Class A concrete in piers.

1,500 Cu Yds. Class B concrete in piers.

140,000 Pounds re-inforcing steel in piers.

500 Cu Yds. rock excavation.

500 Cu Yds. wet excavation

500 Cu Yds. dry excavation.

SUPERSTRUCTURE

14 93-foot steel girder spans in place.

56 cast iron floor drains.

370 Cu Yds Class A Concrete in floor.

118,000 pounds re-inforcing steel in floor.

2,800 Lin. Ft. hand rail.

Plans and specifications are on file in the office of the State highway department at Montgomery, Alabama.

Any additional information may be secured from the State Highway Engineer, Montgomery, Alabama.

The right to reserve any or all bids is reserved.

Cash, certified check or proposal bond for twenty-five thousand dollars made payable to the chairman of the state highway commission of Alabama must accompany each bid as evidence of good faith and as a guarantee that if awarded contract the bidder will execute the contract and give bond as required.

Mortgages

Most real estate mortgages are costly. There are fees to pay for appraising the property and recording the mortgage. There are commissions to pay; often renewal expense from time to time.

Our plan eliminates most of that heavy expense. No matter how much you borrow, $15 covers all legal expense. You pay no commissions. There is no renewal expense. The mortgage is paid off on the easy plan of $15 a month per $1,000, which covers interest and principal.

Investigate our plan. See J. W. Cunningham at the City National Bank or T. M. Dix over Decatur Drug Co.

Week Has Been Romp For Buccaneers; Senators and Macks Continue To Win

The week has been a momentous one in the realms of the big tops where noticeable slashing has been carried on in the National among the Giants, Buccaneers, Reds and Dodgers, with the Bucs faring a great deal better than other leaders. Pittsburgh rose to her usual early season heights and mixed a four game dose for the Giants. Despite a failure to win from the Buccos the Giants are still hanging to the league leadership. Some sport experts claim the Giants are hanging on by sheer nerve for their pitchers are going badly and they are playing a number of recruits in place of injured veterans.

Brooklyn at Pittsburgh.

He seems to be the one hurler in the National that has the Giants numbered.

Cincinnati and Brooklyn are not to be regarded as other than menaces to the leadership of the Giants. All four of the leading clubs are so close together that a slight slump will alter the position of all four.

In the American league the race between the Athletics and Senators continued in all its fiery glory. The Senators are still in arrears a pair of games but a single hit on the part of the Mackmen will more than place the Senators in a position to strike, it will place them on the top rung.

Stan Harris has his corps of veterans and cast off hurler in the best possible condition and they are turning in ball games for him. The youngster seems to believe in the old fellows. Once they are cast off by other clubs young Harris latches on to them. The odd thing about it is that he gets results where other managers have failed. Walter Johnson, Reuter, and Coveleske are all traveling at a great pace and it is their flinging wings that keeps the Senators in line for the leadership. Next week should bring some very important changes in the standing in the big tops for somebody is bound to crack.

How Ultra Violet Rays May Stamp Out Pyorrhea

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.,
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

IN a dispatch from Boston a newspaper carried a story recently about the cure of pyorrhea by means of the ultra violet ray.

"Pyorrhea" is the name given by dentists to the pussy condition which attacks the teeth and gums of so many persons in middle life. It is an obstinate and serious disturbance.

We have come to believe that many human ailments can be traced to "focal infection"—local pus pockets. Rheumatism, heart disease, Bright's disease, diabetes and other serious ailments originate in infection from such sources.

The "ultra violet ray" is one of the modern applications of electricity controlled by the sun. The rays are cut out and only the particular ray desired is directed upon the diseased tissue. In the case of pyorrhea, the rays are applied to the gums.

According to the newspaper story, tests were made on sixty prisoners at the Charlestown State Prison. Of these, fifty-eight are now free from pyorrhea.

The report claims that the application of the ray stimulates the health producing functions of the body. The doctor in charge says food is better assimilated and waste is more speedily eliminated by reason of the treatment.

Every doctor knows and every person with common sense should realize that sunlight is very valuable in killing the germs of disease and in promoting good health. There can be no doubt that the old fashion of sunning the bedding and household effects is a scientific practice. The persons who apply it may not know what is being accomplished from the scientific standpoint, but everyone realizes the sweetening and healing effects of the sun's rays.

I should be the practice of every body to get a sun bath every day when the sun is shining. We are all happier when the sun shines, but more than that, we are having helpful things done to us when the body is exposed to the sun.

I have no doubt that the concentration of special rays of light upon the mouth and gums will prove beneficial. If these rays are not applied in such manner as to sear or damage the tissues, but just enough to produce the stimulating effect, there is little doubt of their value. I am very much interested in this despatch and the alleged cure of pyorrhea by means of the ultra-violet ray. It is an idea worthy of study and consideration. I shall be glad to tell you more about it when more is discovered in the treatment of this obstinate disease.

ADVICE TO GIRLS

By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

A young man with whom I have recently become acquainted has asked me to go out with him. As yet, no date has been set. Is it proper for me to set the date? Also, should I suggest where we should go if he doesn't say anything?

KEWPIE.

KEWPIE: No, my dear, I would not suggest that you "follow up" this invitation. If the young man is anxious to have your company he will ask you again, and when he does this, then it will be quite proper for you to set the date. On such an occasion he is the host and he will probably suggest some place to go. If he asks your advice, then you may make the suggestion, but not otherwise.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am in my teens and have been going out with two brothers. One is exactly my age, the other is two years my senior. I like the younger one the best. They are both jealous and are afraid of saying things that hurt my feelings. Do you think I should keep up my friendship with these brothers?

JEAN.

JEAN: If you can be tactful enough to make these young men realize that their jealousy is groundless, then by all means continue your friendship with both of them. But if you know that you are separating them and that gradually they will drift apart because of you, I would advise you to avoid meeting them.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I have been going out with a young man whom I like very much. He has given me his photograph. Would it be proper for me to give him one of myself for his birthday?

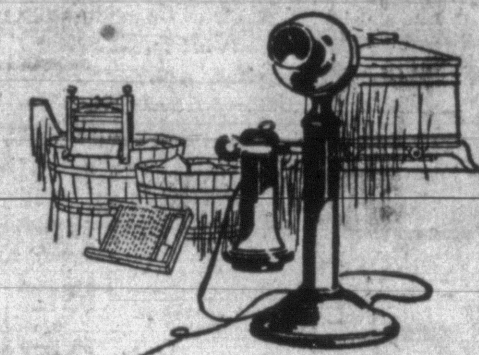

MARY S.: The exchange of photographs or expensive gifts between friends should be discouraged because it so often leads to embarrassment. My dear, no matter how friendly you may be with this young man, do not give him your photograph. A good book, a fountain pen or some such impersonal gift will be appropriate and serve the purpose well.

Annie Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of feminine interest from young women readers of this paper and will reply to them in these columns. Letters to Miss Laurie should be addressed to her in care of the office.
